The screenshot shows the Kyoto University website with the following details:

- Header: Includes the university's logo, name "KYOTO UNIVERSITY", and a search bar.
- Navigation Bar: Features links for "About", "Study at KyotoU", "Research & Collaborate", "Global KyotoU", "Contacts", "Access", "Current Students & Staff", "Alumni", and "Make a gift".
- Breadcrumbs: Home > Study at KyotoU > Visa/tuition/scholarships/housing > Scholarships
- Section Header: Scholarships
- Text: A wide variety of scholarship programs are available for international students wishing to study at Kyoto University. The selection processes are highly competitive, however, and in most cases applications are accepted only after matriculation. It is therefore advisable that students secure sufficient financial resources before coming to Kyoto.
- Text: For more information, visit the Japan Student Services Organization \(JASSO\) website, and click "Study in Japan" > "Scholarships for Study in Japan".
- Section Header: Scholarships accepting applications before matriculation
- Section Header: Japanese Government (Monbukagakusho: MEXT) Scholarships
- Text: Japanese Government (Monbukagakusho: MEXT) Scholarships are funded by the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology (MEXT) of Japan. Applications should be made before matriculation, either through a Japanese embassy or consulate (embassy recommendations), or through the host university in Japan (university recommendations). Most of the MEXT Scholarship students at Kyoto University earned their scholarships through embassy recommendations.
- Text: MEXT Scholarship benefits (as of April 2019, subject to change depending on MEXT's budget)
- Right Sidebar: A vertical sidebar with sections like "Education and admissions", "Undergraduate degree programs", "Faculties", "How to apply_(Faculty)", "Scholarships", "Liberal Arts and Sciences to Learn in English", "FAQ by international applications", "English-taught degree programs", "Kyoto iUP (Kyoto University International Undergraduate Program)", "Graduate degree programs", "Graduate Schools", "How to apply_(Graduate School)", and "Scholarships".
